Good-by to Quartet.

Last evening the Berkeley Quartet gave its farewell concert in Shattuck hall. The young men leave for Europe very soon, and this was their last appearance before a Berkeley audience for some time. Owing to many other amusements which are natural to such a day, the hall was far from being filled, but what was missing in numbers was made up in enthusiasm, every number being encored.

Miss Berghund is an accomplished vocalist and charmed the audience. Mr. Parcels was master of the violin and, as usual, held the audience wrapped in ecstasy. Clinton Morse is our own Clinton Morse, and needs no commendation to Berkeley people.

Altogether it was a recital well worth a larger house. The following was the program:

Rhine Wine Song Mendelssohn
Berkeley Quartet.
Chilcoat March Ronconvieri
Instrumental Quintet.
Soprano—Alpine song Wekerlin
Miss Alma Berghund.
Violin—Danse Polonoise Sauret
Charles E. Parcels.
Tenor—My Dreams Tosti
Clinton R. Morse.
Senator Waltz White
Instrumental Quintet.
More and More Sisfert

Soprano—
Ouvre tes yeux bleus Massenet
Memories Niedlinger
Come Va Tosti
Miss Alma Berghund.
Violin—Chanson d'Amour Rehfeld

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES.

EFFECTIVE AID CHEER- FULLY GIVEN.

More Workers and Material Needed--Junior League-- Mass Meeting.

The Berkeley Red Cross Society wants donations of soap and towels at once for the Washington and Nebraska soldiers. The ladies are working very hard at their headquarters in the Hinckle block, and when seen this afternoon expressed a wish that more would come out and help them. The work is also hindered on account of scarcity of material. Serviceable old shoes and reading matter are especially desired.

Miss Belle Wheeler and Miss Anna Dickinson, of West Berkeley, organized a Junior Red Cross Society Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. W. R. Dickinson, corner of Eighth street and University avenue.

Having received authority from the President of the Berkeley society, they enrolled the names of fourteen children and five adults, the children's names being as follows:

Ethel Bennet, Ida Lamb, Leland Dickinson, Georgie Santacy, Jennie Butts, Winnie Butts, Nancy Bennet, Evelin Wilkes, George McConnel, Eddie Wheeler, Gladys Wheeler, Vera Bennet, May Lausy, Lottie Parachena.

The children are very much interested in the work. They believe in following the motto, "Charity begins at home," and have already given food to a soldier's family in West Berkeley that was in need. The officers of the new branch expect to have many more names on their roll when it becomes known that the society has been organized.

Attention is called to the fact that this organization is not sectarian, but national and therefore all who are interested in helping our soldiers and our country are asked to join.

The San Pablo avenue school raised $10 and a number of books for the Red Cross Society. The children expect to do still more in the future.

The Berkeley Branch of the Red Cross Society held a mass meeting in the First Congregational Church last Sunday afternoon, when Mrs. Benson of Oakland gave an address upon the Red Cross work.

She said in brief: "The Red Cross society is thirty-three years old; it is fourteen years since the first society was organized in America after the persistent efforts of Miss Clara Barton. It was the newspaper men who laid bare the barbarism of the Crimean war, and this inspired Florence Nightingale to do her noble work, which was a Red Cross work. The Red Cross was accepted as a badge in honor of Switzerland, whose flag is a white cross on a red field. There are thirty-three powers now allied with the Geneva treaty; but it was not until Miss Barton added an amendment that the society covered famine, flood and other distresses."

There was a large choir which rendered appropriate music, beside solos by Miss Henry, Mrs. Pierce and Whitney Palache.

BAPTIST CHURCH.
The Grand Army was present in a body at the memorial service at the Baptist Church last Sunday evening. About thirty veterans reported.

The platform was prettily decorated with flags, bunting and red, white and blue flowers in profusion. The new electric lights were on in full force and one remarked that the house was light as day.

Mr. Pierce took for his text John viii, 32: "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." He spoke of the vast majority of the Grand Army as already with the silent majority, while here and there, after thirty years of peaceful avocation, some veteran like the gallant Dewey springs into notice like the return from a former generation to win immortal honors. "The world is moving away from the ages of barbarism towards the pre-eminence of mind."

The little cheese box of Ericsson revolutionized naval warfare when she worsted the Merrimac and forever banished wooden war ships.

Holland, who is now offering a submarine steamer to the Government that, like a duck, can dive to the bottom or rise to the surface, may again change our system.

William D. Howells describes a naval battle in which the chief line of defense consists in the efforts of the gunners not to hit the vessel, but to intercept the bombs and discharge them in mid air.

The present contest is between two nations, one of which from the days of the inquisition may be said to be wedded to the old and effete and barbarous. The other, from the day that Franklin culled the lightning on a silk string to the advent of the electric car, has followed the new civilization and made itself fabulously rich.

Spain closed the Bible to prevent discussion of her church government. The United States guarantees the fullest liberty to all speech and every religion. Spain, in clinging to her old customs has become a fossil. The United States in cherishing the new has become a giant.

WEST BERKELEY PRESBYTERIAN.

May 29th—Mr. Robinson preached in the morning on the text, "Continuing instant in prayer." The sermon had especial reference to the expected meetings that are to be held in July, which the millionaire evangelist, Mr. Charles N. Crittenton, has promised to conduct. It is the purpose to erect a large tent, to accommodate all who may be interested to attend at that time. A great blessing is expected for West Berkeley religious life as a result of these meetings.

In the evening the Memorial service was held. Memorial Day means more this year than ever before. Already there are new graves to decorate. The text was, "Quit you like men." These words are quoted by Paul from a battle cry taken from the Old Testament. The people

U. C. Delegates Return.

Many of our students who represented the University at the Pacific Grove Conference, which closed recently, are returning home. They report a most profitable and most uplifting time spent with prominent Christian men from all parts of the country. The University of California was represented by twenty-six delegates, more than twice as many as were present from any other institution. Following are the names of those who attended from Berkeley: Reno Hutchinson, Fred T. Muma, Clarence D. Henriott, L. S. Gear, R. S. Pierce, S. G. Masters, M. Dozier, Jr., Dr. K. C. Babcock, R. W. Harvey, C. W. Peck, H. Spaulding, J. L. Kennedy, J. E. Gustafson, B. P. Kurtz, F. E. Cooley, C. E. Miller, Instructor F. L. Wharf, J. P. Grant, C. M. Warner, Earl C. Swan, Rob. Belcher, T. Sidney Elston, Herbert Masters, Mr. Powers, F. R. Watson.

Berkeley Volunteers.

The officers of the Berkeley Volunteer company will hold a business meeting this evening at the office of Captain J. G. Jessup. The officers are planning to give a banquet some time next week at the home of Second Lieutenant Wood. Lieutenant Wood is a graduate of the State University, receiving from that institution a commission as first lieutenant. Since graduating he has been an active member of the National Guard and has held a number of responsible offices.

The Junior Order of American Mechanics recently passed a resolution to the effect that all members who enlist and go to the front will have their dues paid for them.

It is probable that the Fifth Regiment will be called out Thursday. This will include Company T of Berkeley.

The Cigarette.

The cigarette has defeated more men who have volunteered their services to the country than any other cause. The cigarette victim is not wanted as a soldier. He has a poor heart; his strength is gone; he has lost his ambition and energy. Imagine a cigarette "fiend" on a long march, enduring the hardships of a good soldier. He who has looked at the world through the deceptive folds of cigarette smoke cannot be depended upon in the cloud of powder smoke. This poor weakling has stood in vain before Uncle Sam and begged admission to the army, but Uncle Sam has said, "No. There is no power in the deadly cigarette. It is the enemy of thousands of bright young men. It takes away the rich, red blood, and with it patience, endurance and manhood."

"The cigarette, the cigarette. The biggest little devil yet."

EARLY MORNING CONFLAGRATION.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT NEARLY $5000.

Three Cottages Totally Burned, Alcatraz Avenue Near Shattuck.

Alcatraz avenue near Shattuck, was the scene of a destructive fire this morning at 2 o'clock. Three cottages valued at about $5000 were burned. One of the houses was just being finished for Mr. Barne of Oakland, by Contractor R. H. Fallmer of Alameda; another was occupied by Mr. Boyson and family, while the third was occupied by an old gentleman, Mr. Middlestrob, and wife. Two Berkeley fire companies, the Columbia and the Peralta, responded promptly to the fire alarm, but, not being able to obtain water, could render no assistance save that of removing household articles. Nearly all the furniture from Mr. Boyson's house was saved, but practically nothing from Mr. Middlestrob's house. The latter feels his loss keenly for the property represented everything he had; it was covered by insurance until a week ago. The owner depended upon a gentleman who held a mortgage on the building to renew the policy but he failed to do so, and therefore Mr. Middlestrob and his aged wife are left in destitute circumstances.

Two of the houses could have been saved without difficulty had water been obtainable. When the fire boys arrived the blaze had only just communicated with the second building.

The fire started in the unoccupied new building, and would thus appear to be the work of an incendiary.

Will Open Tomorrow.

The unusual rush and bustle at the new Schmidt block, Center street and Stanford way, for a few days, means that one of the newest grocery stores in Berkeley will open tomorrow, and that the men responsible for all this commotion are Clear Brothers. These gentlemen have been in business on Telegraph avenue at Dwight way, where they have enjoyed a good trade. But that fine corner in the center of business was too inviting to resist, so there they are with a fine new stock of staple and fancy groceries, in fact everything a grocer usually has in stock. All old customers can be served as before, and everybody is invited to call and inspect stock and leave a trial order for free delivery.

BULLETINS ARE THE CREAM.

The GAZETTE bulletins are the real cream from which the morning papers on the following day make their pages of diluted news. In these days of hurry and bustle it is better to get the news in a few paragraphs than to worry over pages of padding to cull out the same facts. These bulletins are today's news and given today, without change or comment.

STATE LEAGUE CONVENTION.

Today the Republican State League Convention is in session in the city of San Francisco. The attendance is large and the delegates are wearing hopeful and assuring countenances. It is the first gathering of the kind held in the state, and is an omen of the thorough organization that will confront the enemy in the ensuing campaign.

A part of the business before the Convention of Leagues today is the election of thirty-eight delegates to the National Convention which is to convene in the city of Omaha July 13, the election of state and district officers for the ensuing year, selection of time and place of next meeting, and a general discussion of plans for the campaign. Almost all the Republican clubs of the state are represented and a profitable convention will be the result.

The League will be in session two days. The address of welcome will be made by General Barnes. Following are the delegates who will be present from Berkeley:

F. F. Mackerrall, H. H. Phillips, B. H. Hamilton, Charles H. Spear, W. H. Waste, C. D. Maloney, James Kenney, F. K. Shattuck, W. E. Creed, George T. Bush, Captain J. R. Ayres, E. Q. Turner and Thomas Wilson.

If Schley has the Spanish fleet bottled at Santiago de Cuba why not smash the bottle and Schley them?

A very pleasing endorsement of Mr. A. K. Grim for the office of County Recorder is made in this paper by men who are intimately acquainted with him and who have reason to know of the capabilities of the gentleman.

"MARVELLEN" LEASE'S subject at the Baldwin Theater was "The Signs of the Times." Most people believe these are times of the signs; one can't go shopping without getting surrounded with signs and placards, and who cares about speculating on the times when they are already here?

The GAZETTE has faith in the philanthropic citizen of Berkeley in all case of emergency and real need, and trusts the case of a mother undergoing a series of misfortunes, as noted in this paper Saturday, will not be overlooked or forgotten. No citizen in this land of plenty should be allowed to suffer for the necessities of life.

HAWAII IS AMERICAN.

Hawaii is as thoroughly American at heart as are the states of the Union. On the 21st of Honolulu, and other places heard from, were decorated with the Stars and Stripes, and a mass meeting was held in the capital city at which speeches were made and a jubilee held in honor of the expected arrival of U. S. troops en route for the Philippines. She is an American ally by the action of her Senate, and her citizens will give the boys in blue a royal welcome. American Minister, Sewell, opened the evening with a significant speech. His statements were taken as conclusive that the islands were on the eve of being annexed. Among other things Mr. Sewell said:

"The war has demonstrated the importance of the Hawaiian islands as a Pacific station for American fleets and commerce. The flag now floats over Manila. This means an impulse that will soon settle the Hawaiian question by an American solution forever. If the flag floats over the Philippines, it will settle the question for this country. The men who pass through here are going to help keep the flag flying. This American administration is not of its own accord going to haul down any American flag it raises anywhere."

"I feel that I am at my post tonight. The inspiration of this meeting comes from no government; it is the action taken by the American residents and sympathizers, and comes from their hearts. This does not look like a neutrality meeting. It tells that your thoughts are with that great country beyond the sea to which the residents of these islands owe all they are and all they hope to be. I know that our courage does not decrease and increase as danger appears and disappears, and the American heart beats more loyally today than when we were basking in the smiles and sunshine of peaceful favors."

British Consul-General Haywood also made a speech in the course of which he said, when referring to the presence of those from England, that it was a great satisfaction to know that that great country was with the United States in sentiment. He loved the United States and was glad to see everybody else do so.

It is understood that the government of Hawaii has tendered the islands to this country as a base of operations for its Philippine expedition.

THE VALLEY ROAD.

Bakersfield on last Friday grandly celebrated the event of the completion of the Valley Railroad to that place. Orators and business men from San Francisco and Los Angeles were present to raise their voices in the jubilation. The completion of this competing line of road is a veritable God-send to the agriculturists and business men of the great San Joaquin valley and its tributaries. No legitimate business suffers by honorable competition, and in nothing on this coast is competition more desirable than in transportation. Charges that are "all the traffic will bear" is both a public burden and robbery; for it has been often demonstrated that without competition the charges have been equal to the first value and cost of the goods transported. It has been of frequent occurrence in orange shipments from this State to Chicago, that car loads were not sold for enough to pay freight charges, and the shippers were drawn on through the railroad company on the banks for the balance before the account could be settled. The San Joaquin people have marketed some crops that were disposed of in a similar manner. Competition changes all this, and no one acquainted with the situation in this great valley can resist the temptation to join in their jubilation.

Getting at Him. "I wonder," said Colonel Stillwell, "if there are any Kentucky gentlemen on that board of strategy." "What has that question to do with the case?" "Well, suh, I understand they have Admiral Cervera bottled up. But there seems to be some difficulty about findin' a cawkscrew."

GENTLEMEN: We the undersigned, employees of the Oakland Consolidated Street Railroad Company, having heard through the press and other sources that our former Superintendent, Mr. A. K. Grim, is a candidate for County Recorder of this county, and we as employees having had long experience with him as Superintendent of the Grove street division of said Consolidated Street Railroad Company, and having confidence in his integrity and ability, and believing that the stand taken by him while Superintendent of said road in behalf of labor should entitle him to the unanimous support of the people of this county, we hereby recommend him to the voters of this county for the office of Recorder, and we hereby request the voters of said township to use every fair effort within their power to secure the election of a delegation to the next Republican County Convention favorable to Mr. A. Turgenev's Admiration For Dickens.

Literary jealousies are (heaven knows) distressing enough in themselves; they are most distressing, not in themselves, but as symptomatic. And whenever a young author begins to bore you with peevish disparagement of his fellows you may pity him even more than you pity yourself, for he is unconsciously parading the first and all but infallible indication of intellectual barrenness. That querulous note forebodes him. It is the buzz of the predestinate drone. Conversely, it is the first sign of usefulness that it recognizes and is attracted by usefulness. Except by this simple truth you will find it hard to explain, for instance, Turgenev's enthusiasm for Dickens. What attraction, you will ask yourself, could the creator of such characters as Nostanoff and Bazaroof find in the creator of such characters as Mr. Pickwick and the Cheeryble brothers; the mild and melancholy Slav in the cheery, vigorous British optimist? Roudine and Mr. Micawber are, each in his way, studies of the sanguine, unpractical temperament which feels on its own illusions. But the mere collocation of the two names raises a smile. The two stand as wide apart as the poles, and can only, you would say, have come from imaginations as wide apart as the poles. Turgenev's whole theory of his art was a point blank denial of Dickens' whole theory. And yet Turgenev's admiration of Dickens was fervent and constant. "It does not matter," somewhere observes Mr. Birrell, "what the little poets do, but great ones should never pass one another without a royal salute."—A. T. Quiller-Couch in Pall Mall Gazette.

Disappearing Gun.

The disappearing carriage is built in accordance with any one of a number of mechanical principles, but, whatever system be employed, the practical operation is the same. In front of the gun is an immense shield of sand and concrete presenting no projection or angles which would reveal its location. Behind this the gun lies hidden. It is loaded, given the proper elevation and direction, rises, discharges its projectile and the recoil returns it to its hidden position. To test the value of such mountings, the English conducted experiments at Portland in 1885. A pit was dug in the natural slope of a hill, and in this pit a wooden model of a large gun was mounted upon a disappearing carriage. It was arranged to appear for half a minute at intervals of three minutes, emit a puff of smoke and disappear. The Hercules at 800 yards fired in ten minutes 60 rounds from the machine guns and 29 rounds from its six pounders. The gun stuck at the seventh minute and could not be hauled down. In spite of this it was struck only 10 times and had it been steel the effect would have been simply to scratch the paint. Besides this, twenty-eight 10-inch shells were fired at it from a distance of 2,500 yards, and no hits were made, the shell striking from 300 yards short to 300 yards over and from 120 yards left to 130 yards right. This was under circumstances unfavorable to the gun, since it did not return the fire. A fixed gun subjected to a similar test was struck over 200 times.—Collier's Weekly.

A Young Housekeeper.

"Have you two or three nice beef tongues?" asked the new housekeeper. "Not today, ma'am," replied the butler, "but I can order them for you. How many did you say you wanted?" "Two or three." "Whole tongues?" "Yes, sir."

"You must have made a mistake. Have you any idea of the size of a beef tongue? I know there are only two in your family, and I can't see how you could eat all that."

"I want three whole beef tongues." "Very well, ma'am, you know your own business best. But perhaps you want them pickled or in brine?" "I said I wanted them fresh. Have them by tomorrow, please."

That night the young housewife confessed to her husband, "I made a mistake, of course. I thought a beef tongue was about the same size as my own tongue. But I wasn't going to admit to that man that I didn't know anything about housekeeping. I wouldn't even ask him how much the three tongues would cost. I'll buy them tomorrow if it bankrupts us, and then I'll never trade with that impertinent man again."—Buffalo Express.

A Remarkable Poster.

The posters of "Julius Caesar" that are decorating some of the London boardings contain probably the most remarkable evidence of the presence of the Romans that has ever been recorded. On the right hand side of the sheet is a coin, intended to be Roman. It bears a head, under which is the name "Julius Caesar," while surmounting it is the date "B. C. 48." Evidently the Roman mind had prophetic powers denied to similar institutions in a later age.—London Chronicle.

Advice.

Winkle—I wonder what becomes of all the boys who leave the country and enter the great struggle of life in the city?

Kinkle—They make big fortunes, and then lie back in their easy chairs and advise country boys to stick to the farm.—New York Weekly.

Five is the great sacred Chinese number. There are five virtues, five colors (yellow, white, green, red and black), five household gods, five planets (Saturn, Venus, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury), five ranks of nobility, five tastes, five cardinal points (the middle, east, west, south and north respectively), and five tones.

On the average, and taking England and Wales, one person in 78 is a Smith; one in 76 a Jones, one in 115 a Williams, one in 148 a Taylor, one in 162 a Davies, and one in 174 a Brown.

It isn't much trouble for a really healthy man to be in a humor. Jolly and exuberant health are a proverbial combination. The hearty man who is always laughing doesn't have any trouble with his digestion. It has been said that laughing makes people healthy. The truth is that health makes people laugh.

It is impossible to estimate the tremendous influence of health upon human character. A man with a headache will not be in a happy, contented frame of mind. A man who suffers from a weak stomach and an impaired digestion will sit and grumble through the best meal ever prepared. A bilious man who is not a bore, is deserving of a place in a museum. A nervous man who is not petulant and fault-finding is a curiosity. All these conditions lead to grave diseases, when the victim becomes not only disagreeable, but dependent as well. A wise wife will realize that while the old saying that "a man's heart is in his stomach" is not literally true, it is a fact that his stomach sweetens or sours his character according as it is healthy or unhealthy. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of medicines for the conditions described. It makes the weak stomach strong, the impaired digestion perfect, invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood and tones the nerves. It tears down half-dried, inert tissues and replaces them with the firm muscular tissues of health. It builds new and healthy nerve fibres and brain cells. It dissipates nervousness and melancholy and imparts mental courage. It is the best of all remedies for nervous disorders.

Through your skillful treatment I am once more a well man. I suffered for years and could not find relief until I commenced taking your Golden Medical Discovery. I suffered with constipation and torpidity of liver which resulted in irritation of the prostate and inflammation of the bladder. I had only taken one bottle when I found great relief. The medicine has effected a permanent cure.

SHAVING WAR PRISONERS.

Weyler's Brother-in-law Was Sulky, but He Submitted and Tipped the Barber.

The Spanish prisoners of war confined at Fort McPherson, near Atlanta, are congratulating themselves over their improved appearance. The other morning the post barber paid them a visit and devoted two hours to the personal embellishment of the dons, after which they appeared to drop the desolate air they have been exhibiting lately and to have found some diversion in their monotonous existence. This programme was carried out only after consultation on the part of post authorities. The melancholy manner in which the prisoners have acted incline their captors to fear that it might be dangerous to trust them with razors.

A barber's chair was rigged up in one of the unoccupied rooms of the guardhouse, and those about to be operated on were notified. With all but Corrojo, the relative of Weyler, the news aroused feelings of curious interest, but the colonel seemed to think that some new assault on his dignity was in progress, and when two lieutenants gently grasped his arms and tried to lead him to the chair he hung back and scowled. After some persuasion he was induced to seat himself, and within a few minutes his face was entirely hidden by lather and the barber had begun to separate the officer and his shaggy growth of many days. Even then the don didn't appear wholly reconciled and kept rolling his eyes, twitching his mouth and hoarsely grunting his disapproval of the entire affair. He "tipped" the barber at the conclusion of his shave and retired moodily to his cell.—New York Sun.

ple of God were defeated by their enemies—as they always were when not in the right. This was permitted when they disobeyed God. It is the hand of God that has permitted the present war, that cruelty may be done away from among men. The strength of army and navy does not count, but the cause of righteousness will determine the victory. Now as never before we understand why we are a united people and not divided, as a different result of the civil war might have brought about. And no doubt there will be a greater unity among men as a result of the present war. People look for a unity of the English speaking race that will hasten the evangelization of mankind. Now a large majority of letters written and mailed in the world are in the English language. Washington in his first inaugural said that "No people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the invisible Hand which conducts the affairs of men more than the people of the United States." Reference was made to the need of men to wear the mantle of the brave men who are willing to die for their country, and a lesson was drawn from the front review of the troops of the civil war in May, '65. Prof. Morel was not able to sing on account of a cold, and in place of his voice Miss Nurney sang the Star Spangled Banner. A new song was sung, inscribed to Admiral Dewey. It is set to the tune of Maryland, my Maryland, and is produced herewith.

THE FLAG.

Inscribed to Admiral Dewey.
Roll a river wide and strong,
Like the tides it's swinging,
Lift the joyful floods of song,
Set the mountains ringing.
Run the lovely banner high,
Crimson mooring, glory,
Field as blue as yonder sky,
Every star a story.

Let the people heart and lip,
Hail the gleaming splendor;
Let the guns from shore and ship,
Acclamation render.

All ye oceans, clap your hands,
Echo plains and highlands,
Speed the voice thro' all the lands
To the orient islands.

Darling flag of liberty,
Law and love revealing
All the downcast turn to thee,
For thy help appealing.

In the front for human right,
Flash thy stars of morning,
All that hates and hides the light,
Flies before thy warning.

By the colors of the day,
By the breasts that wear them,
To the living God we pray
For the brave that bear them.

Run the rippling banner high,
Peace or war the weather,
Cheers or tears, we'll live or die
Under it together.

ENDEAVOR UNION MEETING.

Last Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor societies of the Berkeley Union held a rally at the First Baptist Church. After a short praise service Mr. Esterly invoked God's blessing upon the meeting. Following the reading of the Scripture lesson, the choir rendered an anthem.

The Rev. Mr. Hatch of the First Congregational Church delivered the address of the evening upon "A Christian Citizen." It was a masterly effort, clear, logical and full of excellent points. He said in part: "He would have every citizen a Christian gentleman, for if he were like Christ he was sure that he would be a good citizen, one who should make his influence felt against everything that is low and degrading, and who should stand for those things that are noble and elevating."

The Domestic Branch will meet with Mrs. McFarland, 1918 Virginia street, next Friday at 2 o'clock.
